WEDNESDAY EVENING, JUNE 4.

PLENTY OF ICE ON HAND -The wholesale companies are selling ice at $10 a ton to independent retail dealers and they threaten to advance the price to three-fourths of a cent per pound during the first week in June. The wagon men are obeying the or-ders of these ice barons by charging custom-ers one cent a pound, or $20 per ton. Many of them would be giad to make a cheaper rate, but they do not dare take this step be cause the companies would cut off their supplies. The Wholesale Ice Exchange has frequently imposed fines of from $25 to $50 on dealers who did not obey it.

There is plenty of ice in market and more in sight, for shipments o ntinde heavy from Maine ports and Lake Champlain. Not a single ton sold here during the past three days, cost the companies more than $3.50, but they demand a profit of 200 per cent. in order to meet the loss austained on delivery contracts that were made when the cost them only 90 cours and $1 per ton. These contracts call for about four hundred thousand tons, and the aggregate loss thereon is estimated at $800,000. To recover this sum the ice combine intends to compel the peo ple of New York to pay from one cent to two cents a pound on a consumption of fully 1,000,000 cons. This represents a tax of from $6,000,000 to $8 000,000 as compared with the prices in 1889 The city of New York will spend $6,000. 000 during the next six years to repaye its streets, but in less than five months these ice companies will compel the people to pay them a larger amount than it will cost to These figures show how great an extertion this ice trust movement

There was more ice lying at the docks yesterday than could be taken off the barges, though Saturdey is the heaviest sale day in the week. Yet there was no abatement in price.- N. Y. World.
